Course Objectives:

- Knowledge of the main events, historical leaders, literature, art, and architecture of Greek and Roman civilization.
- Ability to situate events and leaders in their historical time and place; ability to situate literary / fictional characters in their text and cultural context.
- Understanding of the main cultural ideals of Greek and Roman civilization, and the Greek and Latin concepts behind them.
- Application of the skills of the Classicist to the interpretation of literary and historical texts (students will be introduced to close reading, interdisciplinary analysis, appreciation of historiography, and modes of composition / narration).

General Education Objectives:

- Knowledge of Classical Humanities. Students can describe the cultural ideals of Classical Athens and Rome.
- Close Reading of Classical Texts. Students can perform a close reading and contextualization of texts, or close study of artifacts of material culture for their elements related to Classical Civilization.
- Evaluation of Classical Cultures. Students can use the critical skills of the discipline of Classics to identify and evaluate analytically the values and world view of classical cultures and how they resemble and differ from our own.

Textbooks: (links to online daily readings are provided)

- The Aeneid of Virgil, trans. Allen Mandelbaum (Random House 9780553210415)
- Greek Tragedies I: Aeschylus – Agamemnon, Prometheus Bound; Sophocles: Oedipus the King, Antigone; Euripides: Hippolytus. Edd. Griffith, Most, Greene, Lattimore (U. Chicago Press 9780226035284)

Assignments and Grading:

Unit quizzes available until the test	13%	Scale: A 92.50-100, A- 89.50-92.49
Test #1 over units 1-5	29%	B+ 86.50-89.49, B 82.50-86.49, B- 79.50-82.49
Test #2 over units 6-10	29%	C+ 76.50-79.49, C 72.50-76.49, C- 69.50-72.49
Test #3 over units 11-13	29%	D+ 66.50-69.49, D 62.50-66.49, D- 59.50-62.49, F 0-59.49

All assignments and course materials are in Canvas. For each unit there is 1. a reading from a textbook or online translation of an ancient text; 2. a recorded lecture: listen, study it more than once, and master the material. 3. Notes to help study for the quiz, including a glossary of terms, maps used in the lectures, and a summary of the main points. 4. A unit quiz with questions on readings and the recorded lecture. Questions will assess your knowledge of basic facts, events and the timeline, as well as interpretive information in the lecture.

You will get one attempt at each quiz, no time limit. Quizzes are available for the dates of the course and must be taken using Lockdown browser. Quiz questions are re-used on tests, randomized, but there are also a few new questions about each unit. Tests have a 60 min. time limit, and must be completed using BOTH Lockdown browser and Respondus monitor. Tests are available for the entire semester and may be completed at your own pace, but under the assignments tab, there is a recommended schedule, and if you are significantly behind that schedule, I will send you periodic reminders that you are behind.

If the video recording of your test reveals problems, your attempt may be voided and you may be required to retake the test or face taking a 0, which could result in failure. Among the things that Respondus flags: looking away from the screen repeatedly (assumption is you are referencing notes or another electronic device), poor lighting or extraneous noises that obscure the recording; other people in the room with you. None of these things are permissible.

For information about severe weather and university closings, see <http://www.ecu.edu/alert/>. East Carolina University seeks to comply fully with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Students requesting accommodations based on a disability must be registered with Disability Support Services located in Slay 138 ((252) 737-1016 (Voice/TTY). Academic integrity is expected of every East Carolina student. Cheating (attempting to take a test for another student), plagiarism, and falsification, will be considered a violation of Academic Integrity: (<http://www.ecu.edu/cs-studentaffairs/dos/upload/academic-integrity-manual.pdf>). If you have an illness or a personal emergency, you must e-mail me in a timely fashion and explain your situation; I reserve the right to request documentation to evaluate whether your excuse was serious and unavoidable.
