- Step 1: Click 'Save File' to save the Skype Setup Application. (Image: Windows Save dialog box)
- Step 2: Click the SkypeSetup file in the Downloads window. (Image: Windows Downloads folder showing SkypeSetup.exe)
- Step 3: Follow the simple steps in the Setup Wizard to complete the installation. (Image: Skype Setup Wizard "Hello!" screen)
- Step 4: Open Skype and sign in with your Skype Name and password. (Image: Skype sign-in screen)

A "Get more help with Skype" link is located below the steps. At the bottom, there is a "What's next?" section.

Overlaid on the page is a Windows file dialog box titled "Opening SkypeSetup.exe". The dialog contains the following text: "You have chosen to open", "SkypeSetup.exe", "which is a: Binary File", "from: http://download.skype.com", and "Would you like to save this file?". There are "Save File" and "Cancel" buttons at the bottom right of the dialog.

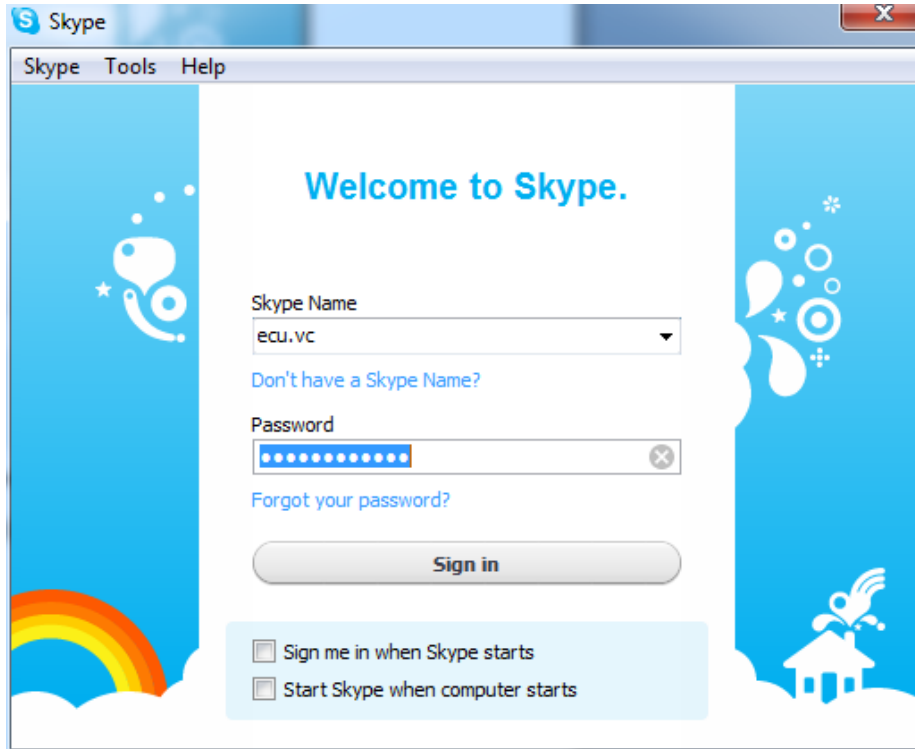

It will prompt you whether or not to save the file. Click on "Save File"

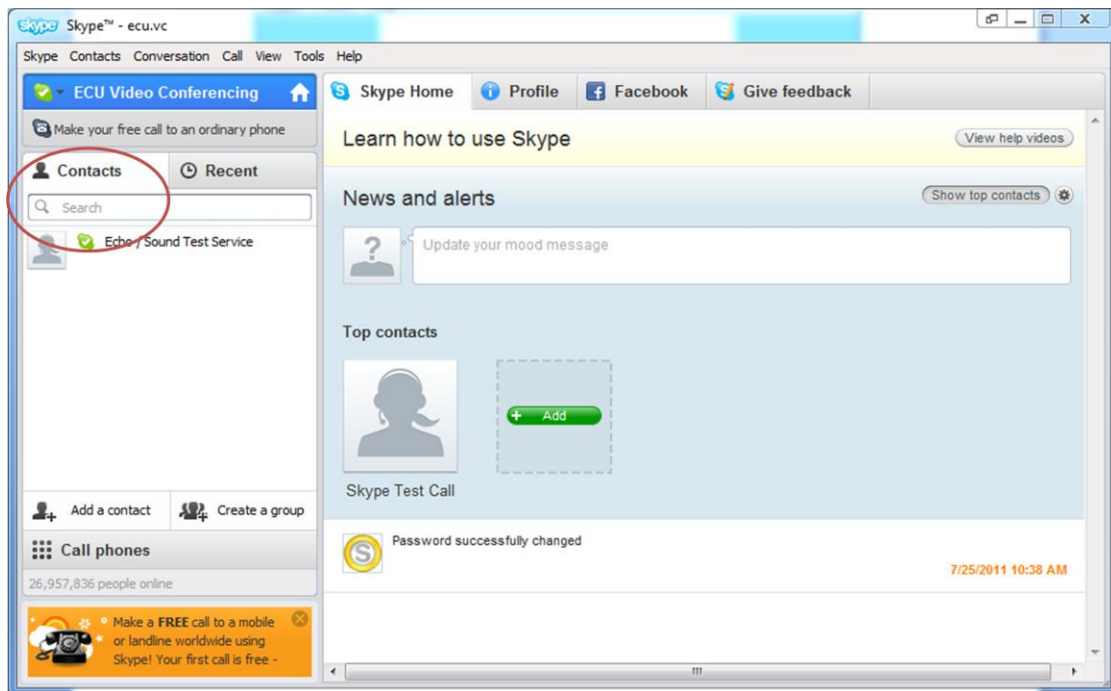

After the file has downloaded, double click on the file “SkypeSetup.exe”. If it prompts you on whether or not you want to run the program, click “Yes”

Click on “I agree – install”, and Skype will be installed onto your computer.

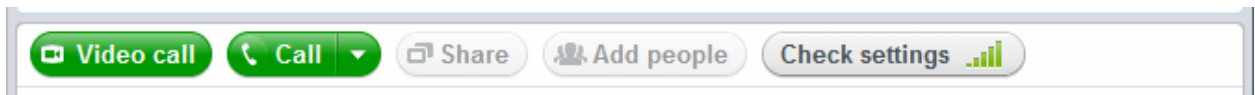

After Skype as finished installing and opens up, sign in with the Skype account that you created earlier in this process

To add people to your contact list, click on the search bar located on the upper left side of the Skype interface. Skype will then display a list of Skype users that matches the search parameters you entered. Locate the individual that you wish to add to your contact list, and send them a friendship request. Next time the user logs onto Skype they will be prompted as to whether or not they want you to know when they are logged into Skype. If they agree, an icon for that contact will appear in your contact list.

When you want to make a call, click on the person's name in your contact list, and click on either "Video Call" or "Call", depending on which you would like to do (the "Call" option places an audio only call).

If the person you're trying to call is available and answers, you will then be connected to that person with either audio only, or audio and video.
